NOTES

1. Cocoon is worked in joined rounds beginning at the lower tip.
2. Read the joining and round instructions for the cocoon carefully. The first stitch of every round is worked into the same stitch as the joining slip stitch. This helps prevent holes at the beginning of round. The last stitch of most rounds is worked into the joining slip stitch. This is a method for increasing the number of stitches in a round.
3. To continue the long color change pattern throughout the cocoon, when joining a new ball of yarn you may need to pull out yarn until you find the color that matches the color at the end of the previous ball.

Cocoon measures 24" (61 cm) circumference and 26" (66 cm) long.
